

MAY 15, 2020

Joshua Lesser: Judaism Unbound Episode 222 - Emerging

Joshua Lesser, who serves as rabbi of Congregation Bet Haverim in Atlanta, Georgia, joins Dan and Lex for a conversation about Jewish life through the lens of caterpillars, butterflies, and the chrysalis transitioning the former into the latter.

Click here to access jewishLIVE.org, the new digital hub for Jewish livestreaming programming!

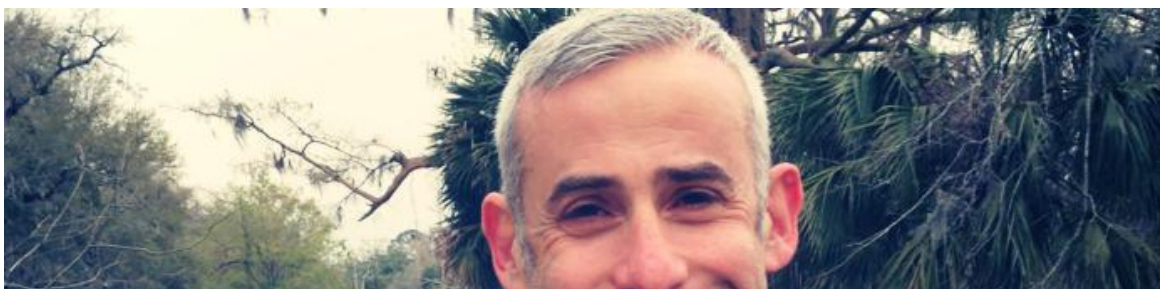

Judaism Unbound | EP284

Episode 222: Emerging - Joshua Lesser

00:00

1X

[1] Learn more about Joshua Lesser here. Explore the congregation that he leads, Bet Haverim, at CongregationBetHaverim.org.

[2] Listen into Lesser's previous appearance on Judaism Unbound by checking out Episode 35: Twice Blessed - Joshua Lesser.

[3] Join the two groups that Lesser has created in response to COVID-19 via these two links: Spiritual & Communal Responses to COVID-19,

[4] Lesser mentions Sharon Kleinbaum, a rabbi who recently spoke about the resonances between the challenges of COVID-19 and those of the AIDS epidemic. For more on her reflections, click here.

PREVIOUS

◀ Sandy Cardin, Rachel Sabath Beit-Halachmi:
Judaism Unbound Episode 223 - Our Common
Destiny

NEXT

Steven Windmueller: Judaism Unbound Episode
221 - Zooming Out ▶

Help us build the Jewish future with a donation today

DONATE